

Disclaimer

1. Limited Liability

Website Contents

The contents of this website are generated with the greatest possible care. However, the provider will not give any guarantee that the contents are accurate, complete and up-to-date. Use of the website contents is at the user's own risk. Contributions by named sources reflect the opinion of the author and not always the opinion of the provider.

Website Availability

The provider will make every effort to ensure that the website is accessible with no interruption. However, downtimes cannot be excluded despite every possible care that was taken. The provider reserves the right to alter or discontinue his/her offer at any time.

External Links

The website contains links to third-party websites (external links). The liability for these websites lies with the relevant operator. The provider has checked the contents of external links for any infringement of the law at the time the link was first established. There were no apparent infringements at this time. The provider has no influence whatsoever on the current or future design or on the contents of external links. The inclusion of external links does not mean that the provider endorses the contents of the link. The provider cannot be reasonably expected to monitor external links on a continual basis unless there is concrete evidence of an infringement of the law. However, external links will be deleted without delay when noticing an infringement.

Advertising

Responsibility for advertising content lies with the respective author of the advertisement, as does the content of the advertised website. The display of advertising does not represent any endorsement by the provider.

No Contractual Relationship

The use of the provider's website does not give rise to any contractual relationship between the user and the provider. Therefore, there will be no claims whatsoever on a contractual or quasi-contractual basis against the provider.

2. Copyright

The contents published on this website are subject to the German copyright law. Prior written consent from the provider or rights holder must be given for any use not permitted by German copyright law. This will particularly apply to duplication, editing, translation, electronic storage, processing and/or reproducing contents in databases or other electronic media and systems. Whereas, third-party contents and rights are marked as such. Unauthorised reproduction or transmission of individual contents or whole pages is not permitted and is punishable by law. Only copies and downloads for personal, private and non-commercial use are permitted.

Links to the provider's website are welcome at any time and will not require the website provider's consent. This website may not be displayed in third-party frames without permission.

3. Data Protection

When the provider's website is visited, information about the visit (date, time, viewed page) may be stored. This collected data will be anonymous and is not part of personal data. It will be used exclusively for statistical purposes. Data is not transmitted to third parties neither for commercial nor non-commercial purposes.

The provider expressly draws attention to the existence of security gaps in Internet data transmission (e.g. email) and full protection against third-party access cannot be ensured.

The provider expressly opposes the use of the contact details that are given in the legal notice for commercial purpose unless a prior written consent has been given or if a business relationship already exists. The provider and all named persons on this website object hereby to any commercial use and transmission of their data.

4. Applicable Law

The law of the Federal Republic of Germany will apply exclusively.

5. Special Conditions of Use

In cases with special conditions for individual uses of this website that differ from those given in sections 1-4, notifications will be given at the relevant place. In this case, the special conditions will apply to each individual case.
